denomination, "contrabands," but whom General Wooltreals as vagrants:—

GENERAL ORDER—NO. 5.

Hadoquartes lighterment of Virginia, Four Monros, Va., Jan. 30, 1862.

1. Colonel T. J. Cram, Inspector General, Colonel Le Grand B. Cannon, and Major Wm. P. Jones, Aida-de-Camp, are hareby appointed and constituted a commission for the purpose of making a critical examination of the condition of the persons known as vagrants, or "contrabands," who are employed in this department under Department General Order No. 34, of 1861, in reference to their pay, clothing, subsistence, medical attendance, shelter and treatment, a yescal and meral.

2. Chiefs of the sever at departments, their subordinates and employes, will furnish to the commission such reports and information as the commission may require to enable it to perform the duties imposed—the object being to do justice to the claims of humanity in a proper discharge of the grave responsibility thrust upon the military authorities of this department, in consequence of aumerous persons (men, women and children), already congregated and daily increasing, being abandoned by their masters, or having fed to this military command for protection and support.

3. The commission will also examine into the condition of such of the foregoing specified class of persons as have been or are employed under Department Special Order No. 72, of 1861, and will further examine whether the several chiefs of departments have a sufficiency or an excess of employees or laborers to enable them to discharge, with proper economy, efficiency and despatch, their respective duties, and if a greater or less number than are now employed can be sconomically employed for these duties. It having been reported that the said charge, with proper economy, efficiency and despatch, their respective duties, and if a greater or less number than are now employed to the commission cannot be too rigid in its examination, in order that justice may be done to them as well as to the public service.

I took occasion o correct a statement in which Mr. Lockwood is reted to have said that "the negroes are compelled to work hard, and do not receive any compensation thereand consequently have nothing further to say upon the bject. I will only mention, en passant, that the Rev. Lockwood has again made his appearance at Old Point, and taken up his headquarters at the Hygeis

A large number of the vagrant pegroes are hired out to officers of regiments as servants, who pay the stipulated sum, according to general orders, to the govern-ment, at the same time providing them with substantial od. Clothing is furnished by the authorities. The quartermasters, commissary of subsistence, engineer and other public officers, employ a large number of them to do their work, and keep strict account of their earnings. As soon as a negro arrives from the rebels he is taken charge of by the Superintendent (Sergeant Smith), and his name, age, occupation, and by whom owned, recorded in a book kept for that purpose, in order to compute his services and earnings, and also that he may be restored to his owner at some future period, when the war is over—provided, always, that Congress does not decide over supposed wrangling between the negroes and the soldiers, and said that General Wool was compelled to keep a guard continually over the negroes, whom the re-bels deem equal to Yankees. It is hardly necessary for me to state that such is not the case. The negroes areon the whole, a very orderly class, and only too giad to receive the excellent treatment General Wool's adminis. tration accords to them. It is a rare occurrence to see a negro in the guard house for any offence.

grants without habitation, and entitled to the greatest charity. However, in providing for them the General adopts the workhouse system, compelling them to earn their living; also according them the privilege of secur-ing a liberal education. The contrabands at Fortress Mouroe are the most comfortable and well provided for of the entire African race. Politically, General Wool knows nothing about the negroes. All be acknowledges is, that they are here, and strictly ignores titles and institutions.

On Friday evening, the 31st ult., quite an interesting affair took place inside the fortress, in the shape of a fes-tival given by the National Zouave Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, of which Captain S. Winchester is the Master. A number of invitations were ded, and the consequence was that a select party gathered together in the come of Captains Hopper and Newburgh, of the New York Tenth regiment. The exercises partook of the usual character of such things, there being dancing, singing, ating and drinking, and all the little etceteras that make a most pleasant evening. A fine band was in attendance, ad everything was done by those having it in charge to make it a complete success. The ladies and gentlemen were received in Captain Newburgh's quarters, and a spiendid supper—rivalling in its profuseness some of the city's best—was served up. As an evidence of the way in which the whole thing was appreciated, it is sufficient to tastefully decorated with the American ensigns, and any quantity of evergreens and appropriate motices. That of Cara Hopper requires special netics on account of the great nextons displayed in the arrangement of the deco-rations. At the head of the room, termounting some

On oither side of the room were displayed, on handsome little shields, the following mottoes:—On the right side, "Faith, Bope and Charity," and on the left, "Friendship, Love ers, were the names of the lamented Lyon, Elisworth, Grebie and Baker. The four walls of the room were hung in the most artistic style with large and small America fags and evergreens, the whole forming a most pleasing appoarance. Captain Newburgh's apartments were not quite so handsomely arranged, on account of its being the reception room, but the walls were hung with the greatest care with flags, wreaths and other ornaments, white over the mantel pieces and on either side were displayed a number of small American flags, which ma. terially increased the effect. After supper the doors
